

I Came Here

JASON TANDON

after Du Fu

I came here to write a poem and all I can do is look at the beam of a solstice moon lying across the lake.

I came here to write a poem.
All I can do
is listen

to the warped booms of water under its own
frozen weight.

